10:45 - 11:00 Red Hat – Taking the Open Source technology into Business

Andrew Lucek, Channel Manager CEE, Red Hat

Open sources technologies are every where around us and run the most critical IT systems like flight control. They are as well the Engine® of major IT innovations of the recent decade and onwards. During the presentation you will learn why and how open source technologies might help to boost your business as well and to help you on your journey of IT Transformation.

11:00 - 11:45 Build your IT infrastructure on a platform without boundaries

Wojciech Furmankiewicz, Sr. Solutions Architect, Red Hat CEE and Marius Pana, General manager, Spearhead

Software that's open can change the way you do business. It lets you make your own technology choices: hardware, systems, and applications. Find a new path that lets you do more while using the investments you've already made. Demand more from your infrastructure. Build a technology base that can give you the tools you need today and carry you through tomorrow. Experience what IT can do when released from proprietary limits and vendor-imposed constraints. Innovate without boundaries.

11:45 - 12:15 coffee break

12:15 - 13:00 When everything works together, you can concentrate on making your business better

Wojciech Furmankiewicz, Sr. Solutions Architect, Red Hat CEE

Transform to IaaS today—or evolve at your own pace. Infrastructure-as-a-Service (IaaS) with automated provisioning lets users solve their own problems. Self-service, on-demand access to IT resources means users can create and access the tools they need in minutes—instead of days, weeks, or months.

13:00 - 13:45 Innovate faster, in a smarter way

Jaroslav Stakun, Sr. Solutions Architect, Red Hat CEE and Dan Pupazza, Application Development Mngr, Bull România

Having the right middleware makes the things that should work, actually work. And it makes your IT team more productive. Red Hat JBoss Middleware is a family of lightweight, cloud-friendly, enterprise-grade products that help organizations innovate faster, in a smarter way.

13:45 - 14:00 Q&A, wrap of the seminar and drawing of prizes

14:00 - 15:00 Lunch
